Programme overview

Beginner camera and commercial-modelling planning for adults: interpreting a brief, practising comfortable poses, directing attention and reviewing an original private product-image sequence. Self-paced written English LMS lessons, original fictional examples, private smartphone or storyboard practice, explained questions and self-assessment rubrics. No live instructor, recorded lecture library, studio session, professional portfolio shoot, individual marking, agency representation, placement, recognised qualification or practical-competence certification is included. No body-size, weight-loss or medical advice is provided. Shares introductory professional-presentation and brief-reading ideas with the modelling foundations and portfolio courses; this course concentrates on camera poses, product interaction and image-sequence practice. Buying all related courses is not required.
