Programme overview

Eight original written lessons on Chicago 18 notes and bibliography, author-date, native footnote/endnote workflows, books, chapters, articles, repeated citations and an answered dual-system capstone. Includes practical exercises and self-assessment, not recorded-video hours. 8 self-paced written English lessons with original examples, practical exercises, explained answers and a self-assessed capstone. Optional automated Course Tutor assistance is available in the protected LMS. Independent ZELVU practical study. Software licences, official style manuals, live human teaching, individual marking, recorded lecture series, external accreditation and journal publication are not included. Follow the required institution or journal guide and verify source metadata; examples labelled fictional are for formatting practice only. These same eight specialist lessons are also included in the Academic Referencing Complete Course. Choose this focused Chicago course or the complete path; buying both is not necessary for the same lesson material.

Who this is for

1. Basic academic reading and a word processor; desktop Word is useful for the note-conversion exercise. Use the edition and system required by your institution or journal.
2. Use a personal practice manuscript and permitted, non-confidential source records.

Published topics and learning focus

1. Choose between Chicago's two citation systems
2. Create and revise real footnotes and endnotes
3. Write Chicago 18 book and chapter citations
4. Reference articles and online sources without losing identity
5. Manage shortened notes and repeated sources
6. Apply Chicago author-date to a complete argument
7. Audit a Chicago manuscript after revision
8. Capstone: build notes, bibliography and an author-date conversion
