Programme overview

Four written lessons, taught in English with Portuguese examples and translations, cover sounds, greetings and introductions; nouns, adjectives, ser/estar and regular verbs; numbers, time, ter and ordering food; and ir, places and directions, ending with a capstone conversation. Brazilian Portuguese is the main variety with European differences flagged. It is not official CEFR certification, not an exam course, and not a recognised diploma. Four self-paced written English lessons in two modules, with original fictional examples, explained practice and a self-assessed capstone. Optional automated Course Tutor assistance is available in the protected LMS. Readings are AI-authored with independent AI editorial and primary-source checks; independent human academic review is not included. Independent ZELVU study support within the listed scope. No vendor, awarding-body or university certification, official examination, exam voucher, licence or software subscription is included, and ZELVU is not affiliated with any vendor or certifying body. No job placement, income or pass-mark guarantee is made. Live human teaching, individual human marking and a recorded video lecture series are not included. Examination fees, software subscriptions, cloud usage charges and course-completion certificates from third parties are separate. Practical exercises use supplied fictional scenarios and free or offline alternatives. Suggested study hours include reading, practice and revision, not video runtime. Related ZELVU language courses cover other languages and English communication. Learners should check the requirements of any employer, school, regulator or exam body separately, including any language test needed for study, work or travel.

Who this is for

1. None. Learners should be able to read English and be willing to practise speaking aloud.
2. Use fictional practice material and only accounts, systems and data you are entitled to use. Check the certifying body, employer or institution for current exam, registration and eligibility requirements.
